

TACT Tariff Manual Discontinuation

June 2021

Dear TACT Customer,

You have just unpacked the TACT June 2021 Edition, containing the last edition of the TACT North America and Worldwide Tariff manuals.

TACT Air Cargo Solutions have included the TACT Tariffs + Rules Manuals (Rules, North America Rates and Worldwide Rates volumes) since its inception and now for over 7 decades. Many in our industry have started their cargo careers with the TACT Manuals in hand as a valuable starting point and an important resource ever since.

The air cargo industry is evolving, becoming more complex, connected and integrated.

To effectively manage the increasing pace and rate of change, TACT Air Cargo Solutions have supported this transition for many years, giving customers a choice of different digital product options.

Our customers recognise the benefits of using online and integrated TACT products, as over 80% of customers have adopted such solutions today.

While the TACT Tariff Manuals have been a standard reference for the industry, the nature of a paper-based product no longer makes it a suitable option in the rapidly changing cargo world, increased digital operations and CO2 efficient solutions. The pandemic has also demonstrated that physical products can be difficult to distribute while online access remains available at all times

Recognising the environmental impact of creating and distributing globally the TACT Tariff manuals, IATA has made the decision to stop the production of the TACT Tariff Manuals (North America and Worldwide) as of the October 2021 Edition.

What does this mean for you?

In October 2021 you will receive the TACT Rules Manual, but no longer the Tariff Manuals.

You will be given free multi-user access to TACT Online for the remainder of 2021, giving you easy and 24/7 access to all TACT Tariffs and a wealth of other features and exclusive content. Further information and how to access TACT Online will be shared with you by June 2021.

Yours sincerely,
